

Funding Opportunity

Zatkoff Graduate Student Fellowship for Concussion Research

With generous donor support from the Zatkoff family, the U-M Concussion Center just released the inaugural call for the Zatkoff Graduate Student Fellowship for Concussion Research. Dr. Steve Broglio and Dr. Eleanna Varangis from the School of Kinesiology are jointly recruiting exceptional PhD students to apply for this opportunity. Interested students should contact Dr. Broglio (broglio@umich.edu) or Dr. Varangis (varangis@umich.edu) for more information.

Application to the graduate program can be completed here:

<https://www.kines.umich.edu/admissions-aid/graduate/phd-admissions>

NOTE: School of Kinesiology's PhD Program Funding Deadline is December 1, 2024.

What does the fellowship cover?

- Full tuition (in or out-of-state)
- Stipend (12 months at 50% effort)
- Health care costs

One position will be available starting in Fall 2025. Applications to the School of Kinesiology graduate program are due by December 1, 2024.

Scan the QR code to learn more the fellowship, or visit: <https://myumi.ch/Erdkx>

